

Last Call--Are You Ready?

Thank Boxes to Be Collected Sunday Afternoon, January 19

One of our public-spirited citizens has arranged to have our loyal Boy Scout Troop deliver a message to every home in Narberth on this important matter.

The Scouts will be at your home Saturday, the 18th. Home Guards will collect the boxes Sunday. Be ready for them. What you give is for Our Boys.

CIVIC ASSOCIATION MEETING

Held Last Thursday Evening—Important Business Transacted—Two New Directors Chosen.

A regular meeting of the Civic Association was held at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday evening, January 9.

In the absence of Mr. George M. Colesworthy, Mr. Robert J. Edgar was nominated and unanimously elected Secretary-Treasurer to fill the unexpired term, until March meeting, at which time the annual meeting and election will be held. On account of Mr. Colesworthy's temporary absence from Narberth, his resignation was accepted with regret.

Mr. H. R. Hillegas, as chairman of the Garden Committee, was appointed in charge of Tree Planting Committee and instructed to have published in Our Town a complete list of all Narberth men in service during the war and have the list marked, showing those for whom trees had been planted or reservation made. This committee was also instructed to secure a suitable prominent location for an outdoor case, and secure prices on case to contain the charter, showing service men's names, branch of service, location of tree and donor.

The Secretary was instructed to advise the Borough Council that in the opinion of the meeting the proposition to erect cast iron signs and standards to be placed at entrance to the Borough, should be held over until such time as the work could be done in a fitting manner at a lower cost.

Since the last regular meeting two vacancies had occurred in the Directorate, the names of Mr. J. J. Cabrey and Mr. F. A. Lanahan were proposed, and these gentlemen were regularly elected by the meeting to fill the unexpired terms.

At the suggestion of the President it was decided to hold the next regular meeting at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday evening, January 23rd, at 8 P. M., and hereafter to hold a regular meeting on the third Thursday of each month at the same place and hour.

SINGERS, NOTICE.

Narberth to Have Club of High Calibre.

A chorus of ladies' voices is being organized under the direction of Prof. Clarence C. Nice. This is an excellent opportunity for those having a good voice to affiliate themselves with an organization, having as its object the study of a high grade of music. Those interested should make application to the director at once, as the membership will be limited, with "quality not quantity" as the keynote.

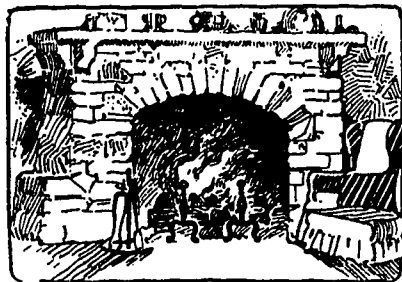

Voice trials—Monday, January 20th, 5 to 7 P. M.; Thursday, January 24th, 6 to 8 P. M., or otherwise by appointment, at the residence studio of Prof. Nice, No. 209 Elm Terrace, Narberth. Bell telephone, 1608.

BASKETBALL GAME AND DANCE.

On Saturday evening, February 1, the Narberth High School Basketball Team will play the Philadelphia Dental College Team.

The game will be followed by a dance, the second of this kind to be held by the High School students. It will be remembered by many that the first dance, which was held on December 14, was a wonderful success.

This time better music is expected to be obtained, and everyone who is interested in school activities should attend. Don't forget, February 1 at 8 P. M. sharp. Admission to game and dance, 50 cents per couple; to game only, 15 cents each.

THE FIRESIDE

Our Town acknowledges with thanks receipt of a donation of $5.00 from Miss Jeanette D. Walton, chairman Play Committee of "The Oxford Affair."

Miss Fanny Loos, teacher of the piano and graduate of Leefson-Thillo Conservatory of Music, will play at the Women's Community Club on Tuesday next, January 21st.

Upon faith in the pledges of its subscribers, the Board of Directors of the War Chest have pledged to date to the various War Welfare Activities, subject to collection, $15,444,107.

This amount cannot be paid unless War Chest subscribers pay their pledges. It is a matter of gratification to state that nearly 90% of the amount payable for the first five months has been received.

Miss Jackson, violinist, formerly of New York City, now of Wayne, and who has appeared with the Philadelphia Orchestra, will render several selections on Tuesday, January 21st, at the Women's Community Club.

George Barr McCutcheon's novel, "In the Hollow of Her Hand," with Alice Brady in the star role, will be shown at the Palace Theatre, Ardmore, on Wednesday. This is an unusual story, written by one of the best known American novelists, and has the very great merit of always keeping up the suspense to its highest climax, at the same time making every situation believable.

It will help if you have the "Thank Box" ready when the Home Guards call on Sunday, January 19th. They have many calls to make. All "Thank Boxes" will be taken by the Guards to the Fire House, where a committee consisting of Messrs. Wm. D. Smedley, Daniel Leitch, G. M. Davis and Edward S. Haws will check them off and count the contents.

Dr. Harriett A. Hartley, who addressed the Women's Community Club on "The Prevention of Cancer" at their last meeting, certainly presented her subject in a most pleasing manner. Those who were fortunate enough to have been present left the meeting with a clearer conception of their duty to themselves and a better knowledge of preventative methods than they had ever had before.

A concert for the benefit of some of our injured boys will be given in the Sunday School room of the Baptist Church of the Evangel on Friday evening, January 24th, at 8 o'clock. The trustees have given the use of the church to Mr. James A. Manning, of Philadelphia, dramatic reader, and Mr. Gustav L. Farrand, pianist, who are planning the benefit and are contributing their services. Other well-known artists will participate. Silver offering.

WOMEN'S COMMUNITY CLUB

The next meeting of the Club will be Tuesday, January 21st, in the community rooms of the Y. M. C. A. The program on this day is in charge of the music chairman, Mrs. Joseph Barelay, and judging from the array of talent procured for this occasion the members and guests have a splendid treat in store for them.

There will be instrumental selections by Miss Fanny Loos and Miss Maud Wipf. Miss Jackson, violinist, formerly of New York City, now of Wayne, and who has participated in the Philadelphia Orchestra concerts, will render several numbers on the violin. Mrs. Joseph Barelay and Miss May Crist as vocal artists. Mrs. W. J. Horner, a whistling solo, and Mrs. George Merritt Davis, readings.

Mrs. E. S. Deubler will be hostess. Members may invite guests and please come promptly. Meeting must start at 8 P. M.

CARD PARTY.

A series of afternoon card parties will be given during the winter under the auspices of the Hospitality Committee, of which Mrs. Charles Verna is chairman. The first one to be held Friday afternoon, January 17th, at the home of Mrs. Edgar Taylor.

It is interesting to note the continued growth of the Women's Community Club, and it is to be complimented on having had one of its members, Mrs. Wm. Russell, appointed as Legislative Chairman of Montgomery County Federation of Women's Clubs.

JANUARY CALENDAR.

January 21—Musical program. Chairman, Mrs. J. Barelay.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Here we place a spray beside thy head,
On this January morn,
While we stand before thee, noble dead,
In this smitten hour, forlorn.

Now as all the snow makes ghostly gray
The twilight, not once again,
Shall we mark thee on thy fervid way,
Mingling with the sons of men.

'Tis the message of thy days well done,
Comes to each like bugle call,
Comes to staunch of heart and graceless one,
Fight the fight though skies may fall!

Not for thee were pallid things, nor air
Throbbing with a trembling shame,
But full dauntless did'st thou do thy share,
Thou, of lion-hearted name.

Request to Reinstate the 7.44

We print below letters sent to the Civic Association and the letter written by President Nash to the Pennsylvania Railroad authorities. From the number of late trains which wander into Broad Street Station each morning, it is hoped that the old 7.44 will be reinstated. The letters are attached. December 23, 1918.

Mr. Joseph H. Nash, President, Narberth Civic Association.

At a meeting of the Council of the Borough of Narberth, held in the Council Chamber, Elm Hall, this date, the following motion was made and passed:

"That Council of the Borough of Narberth recommend to the Narberth Civic Association that the latter body petition the Pennsylvania Railroad to provide an inbound train, stopping at Narberth between the hours of 7.29 and 7.59 A. M. daily except Sunday, and that immediate action be requested on this motion by the Civic Association, as a change in the schedule is pending, and that the President of the Council of the Borough of Narberth be authorized to transmit this petition to the President of the Narberth Civic Association."

In accordance with the above motion, I have the honor to transmit this petition herewith to you with the request

IN MEMORIAM.

H. C. Gara.

"I'm thankful I'm living, and living in Narberth," was the testimony that H. C. Gara gave at the prayer meeting service held near to last Thanksgiving Day. It whets to a sharper edge the keenness of our sorrow now, as members of the Men's Bible Class of the Narberth Presbyterian Church, that one who loved to live in usefulness, as he did, should be taken out of life—snatched away with suddenness—when he was in his prime.

"He was the most useful man in our Church," said a fellow member of him. By that same token he was the most useful man in our Class. This was because of his unfailing willingness to do any task, and to every endeavor he brought a tact, a judgment, an experience and an executive ability that was a guarantee that the work would be done well—as well as is humanly possible.

Was it visiting a sick member? He was always first to agree to visit that one, and the cheer of his genial presence in the sick room is the cherished memory of many of us. "I was sick and ye visited me," is a word of commendation his Lord will surely speak to him in the Day of Rewards.

Was it substituting for an absent teacher in the Main Sunday School? He was always first to volunteer, no matter what enterprise or interest was at the moment engaging the Class.

He had a mind to the work—an original, resourceful, constructive mind. His love of humor, his original sayings (for he kept his mind out of the deep wheel ruts of mediocrity), the apt illustrations, gathered from so many sources, which he had always ready, to drive home a truth, will be acutely missed by the Class as well as by the friends who leaned upon his Christian strength.

He was a real wall builder—in Zion or out of it—and like Nehemiah his enthusiasm for work was contagious. Every task was easy if it was shared with H. C. Gara.

And when the work was finished he was the last to claim the credit for it. His latchstring did not hang outside to the personal pronoun except in the plural number. It was "us" and "ours" when he referred to achievement even though it was due chiefly to his own piloting and perseverance.

He was a leader in the effort which made Narberth patriotically pre-eminent among Main Line towns, and he let the Class have a share in this work. And when Narberth was preparing for its fete, he had a number of the members to meet him at the Y. M. C. A., and one evening under his supervision leave a program of the celebration at every doorstep in the suburb. He had the Class enthusiastically inoculated with the idea that if it did the work, not a house would be missed, and he wanted the work done just that thoroughly.

In his study and teaching of the Bible he clung tenaciously to the fundamentals of the faith. The whole Bible he believed to be the authoritative Word of God, and Jesus Christ was the Son of God in a sense different from other men. But with his conservative faith, he combined a broad catholicity of spirit; and he made room in his hospitable heart for the whole household of faith.

Our genuine sympathy is extended to his family, with the assurance that we are hereafter indeed in this loss of our most useful member and most needed counselor.

HOWARD A. BANKS,
JACOB X. LESSEY,
WILLIAM P. NASH.

An interesting letter has recently been received by Postmaster Haws from Sergeant Charles C. Schmidt, of Fairview, who, prior to entering the Army, trained for a time with the Narberth Home Guards. The following is the letter in full:

France, October 28, 1918.

Dear Mr. Haws:

I received several copies of Our Town from home. In one of the issues was the glaring headline, "Narberth Has a New Post Office." I am mighty glad to hear it, too, for I know that you fought like a "Yank" until Narberth got it. I had been trying to stuff old box 100 with mail, but from the account of the new lock box system it must be well nigh impossible now.

At the present time we are encamped in the prettiest section of France. The country is mountainous, and just as full of color as can be at this time of the year. Old Jupiter Pluvius, though, seems to be master of ceremonies insofar as the weather is concerned, for we are having rain nearly every day. First the sun shines brightly and suddenly a cloud seems to sweep down the mountain sides, envelopes us in mist, and then we have more rain.

Since coming to France I have been impressed with the country, its people, their customs and manners. I have traveled via rail over about one-half of the country, and had plenty of opportunity to "drink in" all the sights, as our car had plenty of observation platforms. It was a box car, and for three days we jolted and jarred in the flat wheeled cars, ate in them and slept in them.

The French box car is much smaller than those that rumble past the Narberth station. The foreign box car has only four wheels, and has capacity for only 20,000 pounds, as compared with our big steel cars carrying sixty tons. Pulled by small engines, the cars run very slowly except when going down hill, and then they screech, grind and jolt some more as they are braked by hand.

From these commodious and luxurious Pullmans we could observe the country. Every foot of the country is farmed or used for grazing. At many farms we saw German prisoners at work. They are dressed in white uniforms with a large P. G. painted on the back. These letters stand for Prisoner of Germany, but I think the truth is the painter made a big mistake and left the letter "I" out from between the two letters accidentally. The prisoners are always guarded, but I am quite sure none are anxious to escape just for the sake of fighting for the Hohenzollerns, meaning "Highwayman" in English.

In this particular section, and in all those I have thus far been, the people show the effects of the great war. Few men are seen in the villages, and those one does meet are unfit for service or have done their bit and are incapacitated by wounds. The people live as saving as possible, many are dressed in black, but in spite of all their troubles they can be happy, and look forward to the time when Germany will be crushed. They are extremely fond of the Yankees and are willing to do anything for them. They look upon America with thankfulness, and as a country of big things.

One night our organization invited the people from a near-by village to a moving picture show in the open. Hundreds of women and children attended and were overjoyed at the performance. Many of the children had never seen a movie. The very next evening at retreat, the organization was drawn up in a company front and our commanding officer was presented with a bouquet of flowers as a mark of appreciation. A little girl about six years old made the presentation, while the band played the "Marseillaise" and the "Star Spangled Banner."

Wood is very scarce in France, and I understand it is cut only once every three years. Even the small twigs and branches are bundled and used for firewood. As a result of the scarcity of wood nearly all the houses are built of stone and rough coated. The roofs are made of tile (red). In the villages the houses are jumbled together in a haphazard sort of way and the streets are narrow and crooked. In the business sections cafes are very numerous, in fact, next door to each other, as an evidence of the good times that must have been had before the war. Wine flows freely, and when a Yank asks for water they cannot understand why he does not want wine.

The farmers and children wear big clumsy wooden shoes and it was at first amusing to see and hear them plodding along the roadway. Oxen are used to considerable extent as draft animals.

Throughout France the roads are well kept—mostly of macadam construction, but our monstrous Quad trucks will soon tear them to pieces, and the first thing we know we will have to pay toll.

Few civilians sport machines, as the Government has taken them over. The doctors and the Mayors of the villages are the only ones I have seen using French cars.

I have spent so much time now in the rural sections that I may have different accounts of France when I get in a big town. We passed through two large cities, but unfortunately at night, and we found the floor of the box cars too comfortable to watch for the towns.

America leads the world in everything, and it does not take long to see it either.

My bill for the paper must be equal to a mortgage on a mansion by this time, but I'll square it up some day. Just keep on sending it home, and they in turn will send it to me. I don't wish you any bad luck, but I wouldn't care if your new Post Office would again have to be enlarged on account of the great volume of mail to fellows in France. Best wishes to all, not forgetting the Guards, I am,

Respectfully,
CHARLES C. SCHMIDT.

man, was killed July 25, when leading his company in a brilliant charge, W. E. Speakman, 511 Essex avenue, Narberth, has failed to receive a single word from the War Department that will verify or deny this report.

"For five months," said Mr. Speakman Monday, "I have clung to a faint hope that my boy was spared, but failure of the War Department to give me definite information blasted the last bit of hope. I have sent appeals to Washington and across the seas, but can get no satisfaction.

"Lieutenant A. G. Timm, who returned from France in September, told me my boy had been killed, and buried near the spot where he fell, but I want the information to come from the War Department."

All that this father has been able to obtain from the military authorities is the information that "we have no knowledge of a mishap to your son."

Harold D. Speakman, a graduate of the West Philadelphia High School, answered the call of his country at the outbreak of war, and entered the medical unit of the old First Regiment, N. G. P. At Camp Hancock he was sent to the officers' training camp and recommended for a commission. This came to him early in July and he was assigned to E Company of the 112th Infantry.

"July 20," said the father, "I received a letter from Harold. He told me he had been in action, but said nothing about the engagement. Then I received a field postcard bearing the date of July 24. On that he said he was well, but since then I have received nothing from him.

"Early in September, Lieutenant Timm called and told me that my boy had been killed July 25. Subsequently, I received a letter from Sergeant Zeigler, of Lykens, telling me Harold died a most heroic death.

"I immediately wrote to the Adjutant General in Washington, asking him to verify reports, but got no satisfaction. Then I communicated with the Red Cross. That organization endeavored to aid me, but has failed to get anything definite from the War Department."

Monday the father, in another effort to get news of his son, wrote the commanding officer of the 112th Infantry, imploring that officer to get busy and determine whether Lieutenant Speakman is dead or in a hospital.

In his letter Mr. Speakman says: "May I also add that when my son was killed he had on his person over $300, his pay from April 19 to June 30; also two fifty-dollar Liberty Bonds.

"I must ask you to pardon the expression of this thought, viz., that we his parents, feel mortified, yes, humiliated, as do also our neighbors, to think that the War Department has not notified us of his death or mentioned him as missing and to have paid apparently no attention to our anxious inquiries."

Results of games played since last reports in Our Town:

Girls' Team—Friday afternoon, January 10th, Narberth vs. Haddon Heights.
Won by Haddon Heights. Score, 31-29.
Monday afternoon, January 13th, Nar-berth vs. Conshohocken. Won by Nar-berth. Score, 25-20.

Boys' Team—Friday evening, January 10th, Narberth vs. Haverford. Won by Narberth. Score, 25-24.

Schedule for this week: Double game.
Boys' and Girls' teams of Narberth will play Boys' and Girls' teams of Abington. Game to be played at Narberth.

Remainder of schedule for the year,
to be played at Narberth: February 1,
Philadelphia Dental College; February 21, Radnor High School; March 7, Darby; March 14, Downingtown; March 21, Hathboro. All the above to be night games.

The attendance of pupils in the Elementary and High School Departments is particularly gratifying in view of the general condition of health in this part of the State. The percentage of attendance since vacation has been normal.

As usual, special stress is laid on the temperature and ventilation of all class rooms. Both buildings are equipped with a modern heating and ventilating system. Teachers and janitors are instructed to observe every precaution relative to the physical welfare of pupils. Parents will do well to consult with the principal before allowing wild rumors to the contrary to worry them.

The lunch room maintains its popularity in spite of the necessary slight advance in prices. The school lunch is no more an experiment. Three years of it in the Narberth School has convinced the authorities that teachers and pupils profit greatly by the light warm lunch eaten under pleasant surroundings. Parents whose children carry their lunch or who run home to hastily gulp down their meal will do well to at least visit the school lunch room and investigate the benefits enjoyed by the majority of the pupils.

The Community Civics Class has been making an interesting and helpful investigation under the general topic of "Civic Beauty." The criticisms offered by pupils and teacher have been instructive rather than negative. A brief summary of the negative criticism will be found in this issue or in subsequent issues of Our Town. The class cast a private ballot without discussion or comment, voting on this question,
"What is the most disgusting public spot in Narberth?" also "What block or blocks are the most untidy?"

Ninety per cent. condemned the same spot in our business section because of the loafing of boys and young men who add to the peanut shells, orange and banana peelings the disgusting and dangerous "spit."

The most disgraceful block or blocks in town are to be found in the business section, according to the consensus of opinion of the students.

But do not think the work of this class is to knock. Nine-tenths of its time it devotes on picking out the good qualities of Narberth and commenting upon them. Pupils are made to feel proud that they are citizens of Nar-berth; proud of the good things done
by the Civic Association, Town Council, Y. M. C. A. and other kindred organizations, as well as private enterprises.

Several of the brief compositions written on Civic topics by members of this class will appear in Our Town. The censor has struck out names of persons and properties so that the articles will not appear too personal. They are published with a hope that some one may be done some good.

This class annually wages a combat against throwing of paper and in other ways littering the streets. Many of its members are not afraid to pick up wrappers and envelopes dropped to the curb by citizens who are otherwise thoughtful of the welfare of Narberth. It is surprising to see the names on many paper and magazine wrappers.

Our Narberth friends will welcome kindly criticism by these enthusiastic young Americans.

The pupils are taught to keep ever before them the school motto:

"Without halting, without rest Lifting better up to best."

To this motto will be added for 1919:

The Glory of Life is:

TO LOVE—Not to be loved.

TO GIVE—Not to get.

TO SERVE—Not to be served.

Report on the Character of the Pavements with Reference to Their Appearance.

Most of the pavements in the Borough of Narberth are in good condition.
But as may be found in any borough or town, there are some that are dangerous and which detract from the beauty of the town.

On Narberth avenue, between Haverford and Windsor avenues, there is a strip of pavement of about fifteen feet which has been covered with mud for over a month.

Along Essex avenue, where brick pavements have been laid, the bricks have become uneven. Mud, water and ice accumulate here, which makes it very dangerous and inconvenient.

On Narberth avenue and Haverford avenue there are entrances to a property which are very dangerous.

On Essex avenue there are two dangerous places where the pavement slants, one at a corner and the other an entrance to a garage. Here people frequently slip and some have been seen to fall.

Places where the pavement is broken or where there are narrow strips instead of a pavement make Narberth's sidewalks dangerous and detract from the beauty.

I think the people of Narberth should have at heart enough welfare for the community to fix their pavements. If the property owners do not, then it is time for the Borough officials to force them to do so.

BASKETBALL.

Last Friday evening, the Narberth
High School Basketball Team defeated the Haverford College Freshman Team by a score of 25 to 24. The game was Narberth's third straight victory. It was close and exciting all the way through, and the Narberth boys had better support than at any other game this season. Cheer Leader Ed Martin certainly put the "pep" into the yells.

Kenneth Walton, a Narberth boy, captained the collegians, and starred for them. Captain Dickie was the Narberth shining light, scoring 23 out of his team's 25 points.

The Haverford boys put up a great fight right to the finish, but could not score enough to overcome Narberth's scant lead.

The line-up:

That Tennis Association Dinner

Everybody knows about it, but it's supposed to be the proper thing to tell the story in the newspapers just the same—the Victory Dinner and Dance of the Narberth Tennis Association last Saturday night. To relate all the events of the evening would be too expensive, considering the high price of paper, to say nothing of the space writer's bill at $5.00 per word, so we shall be as brief as possible, although perhaps not so brief at that, as we must try to satisfy our million readers.

Something over a hundred sat down to the feast at 7 o'clock. Elm Hall had been scrubbed so that the ladies' dresses would be saved the job. A few intrepid club members braved the icy blasts of a cold winter's night to come out with white flannel trousers, just to show us apparently that they were tennis players. Of course our own Bill Hall, who has been dubbed the E. J. Cattell of Narberth, was toastmaster. Bill is President of so many things that if one were to make a list of them it would induce writer's cramp. The only trouble with him is that his first name is the same as that of the Kaiser. Bill was one of the white trousered, and the more I think of that regalia the more I wonder how many extra suits of underwear some of those lads put on for the occasion.

Mrs. Odell presided over the culinary department—that's the way I believe you must refer to the grub department if you want to be in good taste or throw a bluff, I don't know which—and let it suffice to say there was no kick coming on that score. It's some job to provide tables, linen and all other accessories and then prepare food for a century of people, see that they get outside of it comfortably and remove the debris (but there wasn't any in this case, as the crowd was hungry), clear away dishes, silver, etc., and all without confusion. That's what happened, and Part No. 1 of the program—an important part—was over.

But, Gee Whiz! I almost overlooked the waiters. Here was a distinct innovation. In the interests of economy, perhaps, a few of the Club members were chosen to serve the dinner, and the job was completed without one unhappy casualty. Think of that! The waiters were selected from among those who were accustomed to eating in cafeterias—you can always tell them by the ridge across the front of their vests, due to their tray carrying habits.

During the meal a number of telegrams were received, some addressed to the Club and others to individuals. As the concern of one was considered the concern of all, for that evening at least, the recipients of the individual telegrams were obliged to read the latter to the assembled feeders. The Crown Prince cabled his regrets—said his movements for the coming months were rather uncertain and that he didn't expect to use the Narberth courts this summer. Consternation appeared on the face of Ralpho Hall when a message was handed him stating that his auto had fallen off the mantel and had been damaged, adding, however, the cheering news that the auto could still be used as a watch charm. That's the beauty of those Scripps-Booths. General Pershing was heard from, he having cabled Captain Hartley how much the boys in the trenches enjoyed the news that if the worst came to the worst the Narberth Home Guard was ready to jump into the fray and save the day.

President McCarter, of the School Board, requested Walter Shaw by wireless that he preserve the dignity of the Board (now that Walter had become a high salaried Director) by canning those old brown tennis pants of his. Some one, signing himself A. Rumhound, wired Alfred Watts asking the name of the manufacturer of the artistic fence around his yard—the sender evidently being of bibulous habits and having been accustomed to having trouble finding his way home in the dark. Alfred's fence struck him as filling a long-felt want. There were a number of others, but we are afraid of the editor's blue pencil and must hurry on.

The President chose a bad time—ice cream time—to interject a few remarks on the subject of a Country Club for Narberth and vicinity. When people, and especially female people, are eating ice cream they are concentrating on one subject and can pay no attention to any other. Although the writer was also eating ice cream, and he is no female, he managed to gather a few fragments of the speaker's discourse. It seems there's a movement on hand to organize a Country Club around here and—well, stranger things have happened. There'll be more on this subject later—but not here. Think it over in the meantime.

When the President began the distribution of prizes the audience was all attention, there being no more ice cream. Of course, Big Chief Man-without-a-shadow Kirkpatrick received the first prize. The Club has ordered a rubber stamp which it expects to be useful for several years, reading, "First Prize, Men's Singles—Wm. J. Kirkpatrick." There was no cup this time, but something more useful to a total abstainer like the Chief—a carving set. Just how that guy keeps on winning games and tournaments is a mystery to many people. He gets less exercise out of the game than any one—just stands in one place, make the other fellow bat the ball to him, sends it back out of his opponent's reach and lets the latter do all the running and get all the exercise. Kirk is generous to a fault in that respect and never seems to perspire a drop on the hottest days of summer.

There were a lot of other prizes, but I'm blessed if I know just what they were, excepting that some were W. S. Stamps and ribbons. Tennis is a game of which the reporter knows little, and I will therefore confine myself to the cold statistics in recording the names, etc., of the winners. You know if a winner's name is omitted from the papers the poor reporter might find the climate of Russia even more healthful than the scene of his reportorial labors. Here is the roll of honor:

Men's Singles—First prize, Kirkpatrick; second prize, Philler.

Men's Doubles—First prize, Warwick and Shaw; second prize, Justice and Ross.

Mixed Doubles—Mrs. Grugan and Mr. Ross; Miss Humphreys and Mr. Kirkpatrick.

Consolation Singles—McKell.

Consolation Doubles—McKell and Simpson.

Just as the distribution was about completed events took an unhappy turn. It seems there is a cabal in the Club which is not in strict agreement with the methods of the ruling powers. Just as the last prize had been delivered, three of these disaffected—shall we say Anarchists of Bolesheviki?—began a series of protests and interruptions and insisted on holding a prize distributing fest of their own, proceeding to put their ulterior plans into operation. Mounting the stage, one of these revolutionists began, in a machine gun voice, to address the audience, stating in effect that there had been favoritism shown by the officers of the Club and that many of those deserving rewards had been slighted. There was much commotion at this and for a few minutes it seemed as though bloodshed was imminent, but the excitement quieted down shortly and instead of any blood being shed, Secretary Warwick shed his vest and the danger was over.

Being a Republican, the writer has no patience with I. W. W. Democrats and such pests and hence declines to give them much publicity. However, their program being brief they were permitted to continue. Worthless prizes of various kinds were given to several of the members, most of them dubs at tennis who could never hope to win a prize on the courts. Fletcher Stites, who was on the premises and had been kept in the background, goodness knows how, was dragged out and decorated with a prize, although he was never known to do anything more strenuous on the courts than make a speech and raise a Liberty Loan Fund of $100,000 or so. Just what these conscienceless objectors hoped to gain by such tactics is not known, and we shall dismiss the subject with scorn.

Now then, I shall tell you about a truly wonderful thing that happened—the greatest stunt ever pulled off in Narberth. You who were there know I'm telling the truth, and you who were absent may swallow this without protest. At 9 o'clock Jim McKell took a flashlight photo of the dinner scene. At 9:30 this picture had been reproduced and the whole program of the evening up to that time reported in a miniature "Our Town." Copies of the paper were brought to the assembled diners, fresh from the presses. Just think of it, not more than one-half hour after the picture was taken and long before the evening's entertainment was over, this newspaper, containing the picture and report of the evening's events was in the guests' hands. Talk about your journalistic beats! If you haven't seen a copy of the paper, by all means try to get one.

Of course there was a dance. That's what most of them came for. Our Society Reporter has the "Flu" or the Pip or something, and there's no one to report this society stuff but the War Correspondent. Therefore, your kind indulgence is asked for any flaws you may find in this dance stuff. There were Paul Jones', Fox Trots, etc., but it seemed as though each individual had his or her idea as to how these dances should be interpreted. One elderly person wore a little girl's dress and one little girl was bedecked in what appeared to be her grandmother's raiment. One girl who was quite petite danced with a big bloke and used his coat for a pillow for ten or eleven laps. She seemed to be asleep from her feet up. Among those present was everybody and a few extra. Certainly there was a band, which I forgot to mention.

The committee in charge was headed by Bob Pattison. Bob is a born executive, inasmuch as he makes the other fellows do the work. At that, about seventy-five per cent. fell on the shoulders of one man, and it's a good thing it did, because it resulted in his making a wonderful success of the whole affair—it's Ed Muschamp we're speakin' of.

W. R. D. HALL,

Pennsylvania Railroad Company,
Passenger Service Department,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Gentlemen:

RE: Train Service to Narberth, Pa.

It is the earnest desire of the citizens of Narberth that you provide an inbound train which will stop at Narberth between the hours of 7.29 A. M. and 7.59 A. M. daily except on Sundays.

At the present time there is no adequate service which will bring business men into Philadelphia so as to arrive at 8 o'clock, and a train between 7.29 and 7.59 would prove of business value to a very large number of your customers.

This wish is presented to you by the Narberth Civic Association, of which the writer is President, and it has been approved by the Council of the Borough of Narberth, before which body the project was discussed.

We recommend this to your immediate and favorable consideration.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH H. NASH,

President Narberth Civic Association.

United States Railroad Administration
W. G. McAdoo, Director General of Railroads.

Pennsylvania Railroad, Eastern Lines.
New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk
Railroad,

West Jersey and Seashore Railroad.

Philadelphia, December 28, 1918.

Mr. Joseph H. Nash,

President, Narberth Civic Association,
Narberth, Pa.

Dear Sir:

I am in receipt of your favor of the 26th instant, relative to an additional morning train leaving Narberth for Philadelphia between 7.29 and 7.59 A. M.

Previous to January 6th last, an additional train left Narberth at 7.43 A. M. and arrived Broad Street Station 7.56 A. M. This train was discontinued on January 6th, 1918, when it became necessary for us to make reductions in our train service in order to release crews for more important work. This particular train was withdrawn as it was found that the arriving time, 7.56 A. M., was too close to 8 o'clock to properly accommodate people desiring to reach their offices at 8 A. M., and whose offices were not in the immediate vicinity of Broad Street Station. The bulk of the travel going to work at 8 A. M. use the train arriving at 7.45 A. M., which left Narberth and still leaves that point at 7.29 A. M.

While we hope to be able during the coming spring to restore some of the service discontinued during the war period, we feel that it would be a mistake to undertake to restore all of the trains now in the middle of the winter and when equipment and crews are still required for the movement of returning troops, industrial workers, etc. I am unable, therefore, to offer you any encouragement that the 7.43 A. M. train will be restored in the near future, but I beg to assure you that the matter will be given careful consideration when we feel ourselves again in position to restore some of the local service on the Main Line that was discontinued as a war measure.

Very truly,

D. N. BELL,

General Passenger Agent.

The above department should be of the greatest use to the community, the list contains the name of every professional man, tradesman, mechanic, shopkeeper, etc., who does or can in any way serve his fellow-townsmen, and who is progressive enough to add name to list of Register.

As it is difficult for those contributing their time and efforts to the production of "Our Town" to personally either know or interview all such, it would be most helpful if those not now found in the printed list would send in a memo of their names, address, phone numbers and businesses or professions for listing. This will cost as follows: 10 cents each issue for 2 lines; 5 cents for each additional line.
